Annual of Newton High School
Newton, Massachusetts

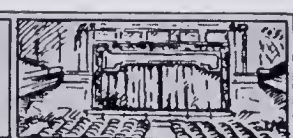

VOLUME TWENTY-THREE

EDITED BY THE CLASS OF NINETEEN THIRTY-TWO

NEWTONIAN

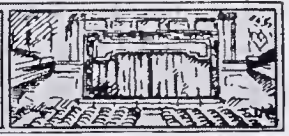

IRVING O. PALMER

From a painting by Wilbur F. Noyes (Gift of the Class of 1932)

DEDICATION

The class of 1932 takes pleasure in dedicating their "Newtonian" to Mr. Irving O. Palmer, retiring principal.

Mr. Palmer has unselfishly devoted himself for thirty-five years to the interests of the school, and all who know him as teacher, administrator, and scholar, accord him tribute for the work which he has so admirably done.

FOREWORD

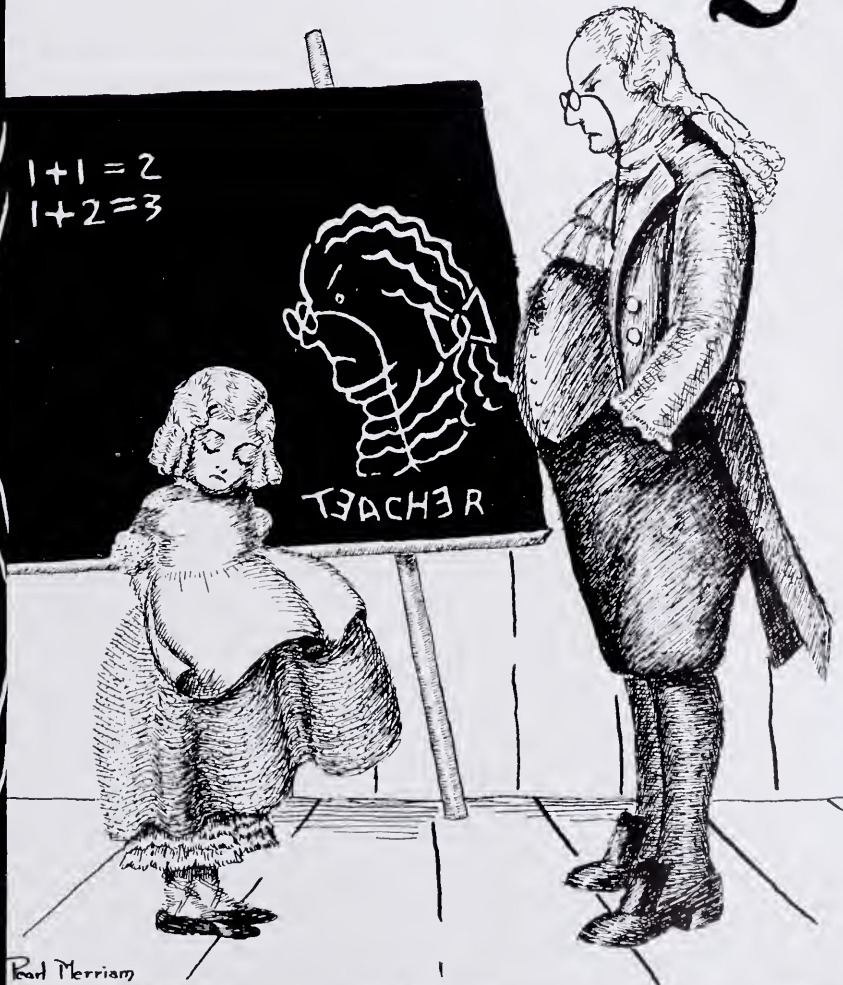

EVERY graduate of Newton High cherishes the year book as the finest souvenir of his school life. For this reason the staff of the "Newtonian" for 1932 has worked zealously to produce a complete picture of both academic and extra-curricula activities.

As has been the custom, the twenty-third school annual is in two parts. One portrays the mental and physical pursuits, such as studies, athletic teams, and clubs; the other, of a more gossipy and humorous nature, pictures the social life. The reader will be impressed, however, by several changes, the most important of which is the cover, a striking innovation that is certain to please the owner. Despite financial conditions, the large subscription has made it possible for us to maintain high quality, to increase the number of pages, and to enhance the book with an improved format.

To the members of the Newtonian Staff and to all teachers and pupils in Newton High School who have given gladly and unstintingly of their time and energy, the editor extends his deepest appreciation and thanks. You have before you the literary "Magnum Opus" of the Class of 1932. May it please you, and may it afford you many pleasant reminiscences in years to come.

PAUL E. ELICKER

MR. PAUL E. ELICKER, the newly elected principal of the Newton High School, was graduated from York, Pennsylvania High School. From here he went to Ursinus College where he graduated magna cum laude, receiving his A. B. In 1922 he received an A. M. degree from Columbia University. Always interested in educational pursuits, Mr. Elicker later was awarded the Master of Education from the Harvard Graduate School of Education.

Before coming to Newton High School, Mr. Elicker was assistant principal of Malverne High School, Lynbrook, New York, and later head of the Mathematics Department of Franklin High School, Hackensack, New Jersey. On leave of absence from the Franklin School, New York City, he served as an officer in the Infantry during the World War. In 1918 he became head of the Mathematics Department at Collegiate School, New York City.

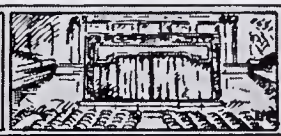

Mr. Elicker joined the faculty of Newton High School in 1923, as a teacher of mathematics. He was on the Administrative Staff, and since 1927, has been Assistant Principal.

Among his many activities Mr. Elicker lists; Phi Delta Kappa, Honor Society of the Harvard Graduate School of Education; National Education Association; National Association of Secondary School Principals; Sub-masters' Club of Greater Boston; and past-president of Davis Club of Greater Boston.

This year, climaxing a career of success, Mr. Elicker has received the appointment of principal of Newton High School.

Senior Class History

GAZING into the mirror of time, we see four milestones stretching out behind us, emblems of our high school career, by which Newton High School has guarded us. Ours is the last class to pass the fourth milestone under the guidance of Irving O. Palmer, who has been associated with Newton High School for thirty-five years.

Arriving at the first milestone as freshmen in the fall of 1928, we elected Ralph Bixby as president with the following officers to assist him: Betty Benson, vice-president; Phyllis Baker, treasurer; Eliot Robinson, secretary. In mid-winter the Freshman-Sophomore Prize-Speaking Contest was won by John Malley. Throughout the year many Freshman joined clubs and athletic teams where they made a good showing.

Farther along in our journey we came to the second milestone engraved "Sophomores." Stuart DeBard was elected president this year; Phyllis Baker, vice-president; Elizabeth Ellis, secretary; and Thurman Philoon, treasurer. The class had now become a vital member of the school since the Sophomores won both the girls' and boys' prize-speaking contests; the awards going to Phoebe Coombs and Harold Banks. Valentine Day the class held its annual dance. The girls of this illustrious group won the cup which is presented to the class having the largest number of girls participating in athletics. In athletic clubs and various other activities, we Sophomores made noticeable records and progress, so that at the end of this second year we had gained much toward our goal of fitness for later life.

The third milestone brought us to building two, in which as Juniors, we carried on many activities under the leadership of John Malley, president; Phyllis Baker, vice-president; Elizabeth Ellis, secretary; and Jane Riley, treasurer. We were represented on the Associates this year by Helen Ellis, who was girls' vice-president.

In the social affairs of the school, the Junior Class sponsored the always popular "Feminine Follies." Many Juniors proved to be stars on the athletic field. Letters were won in various sports by both boys and girls. Those members of the class who met the requirements were admitted to the National Honor Society. Harry Gray was editor-in-chief of the Orange Book and Vincent Wentworth was business manager.

And now we come to the fourth and last milestone of our high school career. Charles Butler was elected president in the fall elections. Other officers were: Barbara Cram, first vice-president; Jane Brown, second vice-president; Robert Ashley, secretary; and Marjorie Cady, treasurer. Robert Paterson assumed the office of president of the Associates, William Duane became boys' vice-president; Julia Harvey, clerk, and Rosetta Littlefield, treasurer.

The class officers and Henrietta Wittens, Lomira Mason, Philip Layton, Vincent Wentworth, and Robert Hunter made up the Senior Executive Committee.

The Senior Class opened the school social season with the ever popular Harvest Hop. By this time many of our athletes, both boys and girls, were sufficiently skilled to gain places on various varsity squads.

The next event on our calendar was the Senior Play, "You Never Can Tell." The leading roles were played by Betty Harris and Vincent Wentworth, with Marion Willard and Edward Campbell as the ultra-modern twins. The other characters were Kate Black, Robert Ashley, Philip Andress, Kay Brown, Thurman Philoon, John Foley, and William Leighton. Shortly after this our most popular class assembly of the year was held, the Senior Talent Assembly. With Jack Malley and Rosetta Littlefield as host and hostess and Priscilla Sawyer their lollypop-loving daughter, a very clever and amusing musical program was enjoyed. The next event in which the Seniors took part was the Drama Club Play, "Beggar on Horseback." The leading characters were portrayed by John Malley, Lois Winslow, Julia Harvey, Paul Leahy, Thurman Philoon, and Philip Margolin.

In athletics the Senior girls started the year with a successful hockey team captained by Gertrude Welch. Margaret Fletcher brought much honor to the class by gaining a position on the Honorary All-Boston Hockey Team, while Eleanor Stearns won the fall tennis tournament. Ruth Sampson was captain of the Varsity Basketball Team which defeated the alumnae and the faculty by large scores. All the boys' varsity teams were captained by Seniors; football, William Duane; basketball, George Gulian; hockey, Richard Kelley; indoor track, James Cahill; outdoor track, Stanley Johnson.

Charles Doherty was chosen editor-in-chief of the Newtonite, and Vincent Wentworth of the Newtonian. Jack Malley was elected president of the National Honor Society.

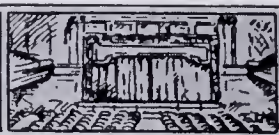

Above all we remember the thrilling plans of graduation festivities. Harold Banks managed the senior dance, while the committee for our banquet was headed by Albert Robinson.

At last we see before us a huge stone marked LIFE. Many arrows pointing in different directions show us the various roads we may pursue in the world.

*"You can always tell a freshman
By his greenness and such."*

Bewildered and proud, the freshmen wandered rather uncertainly around Newton High for the first few days. In the whirlwind of the new class were many outstanding characters. From these the following leaders were chosen: Richard McEldowney, president; Robert Dunn, vice-president; Betty Buttrick, secretary; and Carolyn Raye, treasurer. During the following months we surprised the upper-classmen with our dramatic and athletic ability. Thus our career in Newton High began.

*"You can tell a sophomore,
But you can't tell him much."*

We newly inaugurated sophomores greeted members joining our class from junior high schools and proudly escorted them to their classes. We chose the following as class officers: Robert Cotton, president; James Leach, vice-president; Joseph Manning, secretary; and Stephen Baily, treasurer.

This year the class put on a much remembered dance, on Friday, the 13th. In athletics the boys were well represented, having members of the class on the varsity baseball, intermediate, junior varsity, and even varsity football, hockey, and baseball teams. The girls did their part, taking second place in the girls' gym meet.

During the year, Virginia Kretchmar and Richard McEldowney won the Freshman-Sophomore Prize-Speaking Contest. The class maintained second place on the honor roll for the entire year. Perhaps, after reading this, you will think the sophomores hardly need to be told much.

*"You can tell a junior
By his swagger and his ways."*

Once more we meet, but as upper-classmen now, still the class of 1933 and proud of it. Robert Bankart led his class, with Fredece Littlefield, vice-president; Jane Forté, secretary; and Joseph Manning, treasurer.

After the classes had been organized, the boys reported for football; Huston and Kevorkian made the varsity. Shortly after the girls began soccer and field hockey. They upheld their athletic record by winning the soccer contest and having six classmates on the varsity field hockey squad. Then the winter sports season started. Six of the boys made the varsity basketball team, while the girls made an excellent record in this sport by losing no games and tying one. With a score of 30 points, the junior girls were victorious at the gym meet. The spring season found many out for track, baseball, tennis, archery, and golf. Five of the nine positions on the baseball team were filled by juniors.

The annual dance, with Rosalind Bigelow, Harry Diman, Jane Forté, Katherine Swennarton, Lawrence Abrams, Richard McEldowney, and Carol Bloom in charge was a success.

This year Virginia Kretchmar surpassed her opponents by winning first place in the Prize-Speaking Contest. Of the boys, William Bittenbender, also a member of our class, secured the prize, thus giving us full honors. The class was further honored when the first two prizes in the Newtonite Short Story Contest went to the juniors, Virginia Whitehead and Joanne Wyman. Twenty-four members were admitted to the National Honor Society. In April, William Durbin and Roger Myrick were chosen editor-in-chief and business manager of the Orange Book.

What more will happen? On to victory, juniors.

"You can tell a senior —."

But that is next year.

Sophomore Class History

THIS year saw the second act of the play which opened in September, 1930. The cast has increased in number. The curtain rose last September on the group of Warrenites, Daytonians, and Newton High School freshmen getting settled for another year of hard work.

The first piece of business was the election of the class officers. The result of the elections was as follows: Jean A. Harvey, president; Paul Felt, vice-president; James Hunter, secretary; Marjorie Tyler, treasurer. We demonstrated our initiative in being the only class to choose a girl for a leader in its general activities. Also, James Hunter had served as vice-president of the class of 1934 the year before. The members of the executive committee, appointed by the class officers and Miss Riley, the class adviser, are: William Spurrier, Jane Arend, Ruth Ulmer, Deborah Wing, Robert Adams, and Helen Brandt.

The Neophytes and Alpha Beta, the two clubs with membership open to Freshmen and Sophomores, were soon reorganized and the vacancies were filled with many members from the class of 1934. The annual prize-speaking contest was won by Paul Felt, '34, and Louise Kerr, '34. The Neophytes presented an excellent Washington play at a meeting to which the Drama Club was invited.

In the field of boys' athletics, our class was represented on the intermediate and junior varsity football, hockey, basketball, and track teams. We had the distinction of having Robert Young on the varsity hockey team. The sophomore girls made a fine showing in field hockey, archery, and basketball. At the gym meet many received numerals and shields for their ability.

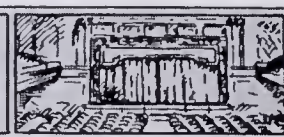

The Sophomore Dance held on Friday, February 12, came up to the expectations of the committees in charge, and we hope that those who attended had as good a time as was planned for them. Details for this dance were arranged by the class officers and members of the executive committee.

All in all, the class has a good scholastic record. We have rated second on all the scholarship rolls so far this year. We are all trying to be first for the last two marking periods.

Do we look like the same people who entered here in the fall of 1930? The idea of such a question! And now, as the curtain falls on the second act of this most thrilling play, we say good-bye to sophomore and freshman days, for when the curtain rises again in the fall, we shall be Juniors — and upper-classmen.

Freshman Class History

FRESHMAN! In our carefree youth (long past), we thought that to be a freshman in the Newton High School was as difficult an attainment as having a perfect report card. Now we know better, for our lowly position has been carefully and repeatedly impressed upon us by upper-classmen. They continually greet us with such words as "Hi, Frosh!" and "Oh, so you're a Freshman, hml!"

Although our numbers are very small, we pride ourselves on our reputation and our hope of future success. Our competent class officers are:

President, MARTIN ROGERS

Vice-President, EDWARD DAMON

Secretary, NORMAN ENECESS

Treasurer, MARTIN ROGERS

Freshmen have enthusiastically joined in extra-curricula activities. Some of our class won coveted places in Alpha Beta, the freshman-sophomore English Club and in the Neophytes, the freshman-sophomore dramatic organization. We have had no notable victories in sports, but we have done our best.

The records of the classes which have gone before us have been very high, and we intend to maintain the same ideals in the future for the honor of Newton High School.

In spite of the fact that our numbers are exceptionally small this year, we have participated in all extra curricula activities open to freshmen, particularly in the Girls' Gym Meet, where the entire number of registered freshman girls upheld the honor of the class. Although we did not score an outstanding number of points, the performance of the class of '36 was enthusiastically received.

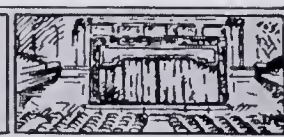

The notoriety which we received as the last freshman class, was little dimmed by the fact that there were less than 150 members in the class. Still further distinction that has been ours — is the method with which the two lower classes have co-operated. All assemblies have been held with sophomores, who acted as very cordial hosts to us.

As to our scholastic ability — we have shown well that we are not behind the rest of the school, having had about 11% of the class on the honor roll at one time. Our class is proud to say that not few of its members have at various times received absolutely perfect report cards.

While "No Man's Land" has been our home this year — we are looking forward to an important place, as sophomores, in the year 1932-1933.

The Associates

President, ROBERT PATTERSON

Boys' Vice-President, WILLIAM DUANE

Clerk, JULIA HARVEY

Girls' Vice-President, HELEN ELLIS

Treasurer, ROSETTA LITTLEFIELD

UNDER the capable leadership of president, Robert Patterson; Boys' vice-president, William Duane; Girls' vice-president, Helen Ellis; clerk, Julia Harvey; and treasurer, Rosetta Littlefield, the Newton High School Associates completed a year of active and successful legislation. Seldom has the constitution undergone such radical and propitious changes.

The Legislature, comprised as it is of delegates elected from the home rooms, represents the voice of the student body and it is their duty to enact such legislation as they consider necessary for the welfare of the school, subject only to the approval of the executive council.

By far the most outstanding work of the Associates this year was the sweeping changes in the entire voting system which had failed to meet the constantly increasing needs of an advancing school. To prevent the swinging of the election by a powerful, though inexperienced sophomore class, the voting for Associate officers for the following year is to be done by the present sophomores and juniors in the late spring. That is, the juniors and seniors alone will elect their Associate officers at the close of the preceding year while they are still sophomores and juniors. In a further attempt to improve the system, home rooms are allowed to nominate candidates from any other room, while in the second primary, two names are to be voted upon instead of four.

Other minor business of the Legislature includes the granting of a Debating Club Charter, an amendment to the Charter of the Drama Club, and the regulating of Article VI to permit two representatives from all senior home rooms of more than fifteen members.

Credit is due to President Patterson for his discretion in appointing committees and to the entire Legislature for its time and work.

The National Honor Society

President, JOHN MALLEY

Vice-President, SILAS PHILLIPS

Secretary, JULIA HARVEY

Treasurer, ROBERT ASHLEY

THE Newton Chapter of the National Honor Society has now completed its sixth year. This society, selected from the upper fifteen percent of the Senior Class and the upper five of the Junior Class, has no part in social functions but offers its services to the school whenever desired. As its members are chosen by the faculty on the basis of scholarship, character, leadership, and service, its purpose is to offer recognition to those having these qualities, or, in other words, those representing the school in the highest possible ideals.

At the first meeting of the year, under the able direction of Miss Edith M. Rideout, the following officers were elected: president, John Malley; vice-president, Silas Phillips; secretary, Julia Harvey; treasurer, Robert Ashley. Assistant Principal Paul E. Elicker then outlined the plan in which the society would serve the school by officiating at the open night session held for parents in November.

Another meeting was held in January to make arrangements for the induction ceremony, which was held in April with the inspiring ritual used in former years. Mr. Henry Pennypacker of Harvard, the guest speaker, chose for his subject, "School Life and School Purposes." Principal Irving O. Palmer awarded the pins.

The Newtonite

DURING 1931-1932 the Newtonite, under the editorship of Charles J. Doherty, has attained through its many new features and improvements, a higher standard than ever before. As in the past, it has continued to rank among the best school papers of New England, and of the United States. Credit is due to Mr. Lester E. Williams, Mr. Carl P. Birmingham, and Miss Gertrude Robinson for their valuable advice and aid to the staff.

The News Staff has been under the efficient direction of Dorothy Carroll. All important news events from September to June have been covered by the reporters and written in interesting and entertaining style. The Editorial Page boasts several innovations. Among these are appropriate headings and a feature section which contains "movie" reviews, tall stories, and the weekly "Incidentally", introduced by John Gowen. Probably the greatest improvement is shown in the Literary Page, where the Short Story Contest in particular has aroused new and increased enthusiasm. The quality and appeal of the articles on this page have risen continually. John Bruen with his "Breezy Bits" has edited and enlivened the comprehensive Sport Page. Competent staffs have been chosen to carry on next year, and volume eleven promises to equal, if not surpass, the standards set by volume ten.

In April the Newtonite staff was fortunate in procuring Mr. Whiting, formerly of the Boston Herald, to speak at the school. The English Club, Social Studies Club, and Drama Club were guests.

At the May Assembly, Newtonite Charms were awarded to the following for long and faithful service to the school paper:

Charles J. Doherty
Dorothy M. Carroll
Julia B. Harvey
Robert P. Ashley
John A. Bruen

Anne M. Kendall
Doris A. Linscott
Eleanor Weston
Kathryn M. Brown

The Orange Book

Editor-in-Chief, HARRY GRAY

Business Manager, VINCENT WENTWORTH

THE Orange Book is edited by members of the Junior Class under the supervision and advice of Miss Caroline M. Doonan. This year Harry Gray was editor-in-chief and Vincent Wentworth was business manager.

The aim of this book is to provide for the entering class and for all other classes necessary information, such as: a record of the school government, traditions, the Constitution, activities, publications, and a calendar of school events. The records of all sports and the names of the team members are included in this useful handbook. All track records, equalled or broken by pupils of the school, are given.

This book is the undisputed judge on all questions of eligibility, rules, and regulations, and guidance.

The editor and business manager for next year are William Durbin and Roger Myrick.

“You Never Can Tell”

ONCE again Miss Helen Nute proved her coaching powers as she led the Senior Play to a howling success on January 22 and 23. The title was “You Never Can Tell,” the truth of which the audience became well aware as they tried to reconcile the people before them as their classmates.

The first act was laid in a dentist’s office, and it was here that Vineent Wentworth, playing Valentine, the five-shilling dentist, started the play off with a bang. His first patient was Dolly Clandon (Marian Willard), a most talkative and inquisitive young miss. Edward Campbell, as her twin brother, Philip, who had a remarkable knowledge of human nature, was well matched. Betty Harris portrayed Gloria Clandon, the elder sister and heroine, to the admiration and satisfaction of all. But it was Kate Black who kept the audience chuckling, so precise and haughtily practical was this Mrs. Lanfrey Clandon with her radical ideas. The part of Mr. Crampton, the long-lost father and bitter husband, was well taken by Robert Ashley. Finch McComas (Philip Andress), the old family solicitor, spoiled a possible reconciliation; but when the dominant Mr. Bohun (Thurman Philoon) appeared, matters were straightened out immediately. John Foley, as a philosophizing, ultra-tactful waiter, certainly merited his applause. Katherine Brown acted as Valentine’s maid, and William Leighton was assistant waiter.

English Club

President, JULIA HARVEY
Vice-President, SILAS PHILLIPS

Secretary, MARION WILLARD
Treasurer, JOHN MALLEY

THE English Club completed its twentieth successful year under the competent direction of Miss E. Louise Richardson and Miss Edith M. Rideout. The first meeting was held early in the fall with the following serving as the new officers: president, Julia Harvey; vice-president, Silas Phillips; secretary, Marion Willard; treasurer, John Malley.

During this year, the club secured several interesting speakers, including Mr. B. Floyd Rinker, who spoke on "Bridges, Being the Confessions of an Old Man"; Rev. Herbert Hitchen, exponent of James M. Barrie, the playwright; and Mr. Samuel Thurber, who sketched the history of the school in 1902. The English Club presented Mr. Edwin Markham to an assembly of juniors and seniors on March 16. Other programs included a play, a party, a picnic, and joint meetings with the Social Studies Club and the Newtonite. The entertaining programs were arranged by Miss Rideout and Doris Linscott, chairman of the program committee.

The annual Prize-Speaking Contest, sponsored by the club, was held on Friday evening, April 1 in the auditorium. Virginia Kretchmar, '33, and William Bittenbender, '33, were awarded the cups as the best speakers. The essay and poetry contests were won by Theodore Timbie, '32, and Rosalie Clelland, '32. The one-act play, Tarkington's, "The Travellers," which ended the program, was for the first time coached by a student, Anne Kendall, '32, a member of the Drama Club. Marjorie Jones and Edward Campbell played the leads. The president of the English Club, Julia Harvey, acted as the presiding officer.

The club presented to the library fifty Gold Star Books, especially suitable for seniors.

Prospects for next year are very bright. William Bittenbender has been chosen as president for 1932-1933.

Secretary, ANNE KENDALL

Treasurer, VINCENT WENTWORTH

THE Drama Club has just completed its eighth successful year under the capable direction of the faculty adviser, Miss Louise Wetherbee. The club officers elected in October were: John Malley, president; Marion Willard, vice-president, Anne Kendall, secretary; Vincent Wentworth, treasurer.

The outstanding accomplishment of the year was the production of "Beggar on Horseback," a two-act comedy by Kaufman and Connelly, presented on March eleventh and twelfth. John Malley admirably portrayed the erratic young composer, and Lois Winslow, his charming neighbor. Other leading parts were taken by Julia Harvey, Winnifred Clark, Thurman Philoon, Philip Margolin, and Paul Leahy. The play was the most ambitious which the Drama Club has attempted and called for many difficult stage sets. The Workshop, which this year has been enlarged and organized under officers of its own, gave valuable help backstage.

The year's program has included a one-act play, coached by a member of the club, for nearly every meeting. In November, Mr. Raymond Green, just returned from a year of travel abroad, spoke upon the theatre in Germany. At Christmas time, the Drama Club acted as host to the other organizations of the school at a presentation of the ever-appealing one-act play, "Why the Chimes Rang," by Elizabeth McFadden, coached by Philip Margolin. In honor of the bicentennial, Paul Leahy coached and produced Percy MacKaye's "George Washington at the Delaware" in February. Kay Brown and Thurman Philoon were in charge of the April and May meetings respectively.

Alpha Gamma Tau

President, VINCENT WENTWORTH
Vice-President, THOMAS FRARY

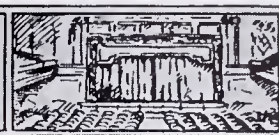

Secretary, CHESTER BABCOCK
Treasurer, CAROLYN RAYE

TO be a member of Alpha Gamma Tau one must maintain a grade of "B" in mathematics, and passing grades in all other subjects. By this method, it is possible to have as members only those who are interested in this subject.

At each meeting two or three members are chosen to demonstrate some of the fundamentals and some of the eccentricities of mathematics. These talks have proved interesting to both the speakers and the audience.

Early in May the club presented a play. It was entitled, "Falling in Love with Plane Geometry," which afforded its audience numerous laughs.

The adviser, Miss Madalene Brackett, and the interested partisan, Mr. Charles H. Mergendahl, hope that each additional year will arouse more interest in Alpha Gamma Tau. This club provides an opportunity for members to increase their knowledge of mathematics in an entertaining manner.

Social Studies Club

President, BARBARA BURR

Vice-President, IRVING CLUKAS

Secretary, EDITH BERRY

Treasurer, WILLIAM CAVANAUGH

THE first meeting of the Social Studies Club was held in October. The following officers were elected: Barbara Burr, president; Irving Clukas, vice-president; Edith Berry, secretary; and William Cavanaugh, treasurer. After the election Mr. Greene spoke on "Andorra and Customs of Spain." He illustrated his talk with pictures he took last summer. At the November meeting Mr. Kidger spoke on "Youth Movements in Europe." Dr. Samuel Lindsay spoke on "What the Eye Hath Seen and the Ear Hath Heard in Russia." At the remaining meetings motion pictures were shown, one on "Daniel Boone," another entitled "Washington and Valley Forge."

For many years now, the Social Studies Club has proved its value and interest to the school.

Le Cercle Français

President, FRANCES JENNINGS
Vice-President, ANNE KENDALL

Secretary, HELEN JOHNSON
Treasurer, DOROTHY GOULD

LE CERCLE FRANÇAIS has spent a most profitable and successful year under the direction of Miss Roberta Miller. About thirty members were enrolled, and the officers chosen were: Frances Jennings, president; Anne Kendall, vice-president; Helen Johnson, secretary; Dorothy Gould, treasurer.

At the regular meeting in November, Miss Miller entertained us by showing and describing several beautiful posters which she had brought back with her from France. In December, the club accepted an invitation of the Drama Club to attend the play "Why the Bells Rang." Later in the year several of the members participated in a short play entitled "La Faim est un Grand Inventeur." Those taking part were: Monsieur Crabucher, Robert Cotton and Norman Dupee; Madame Crabucher, Frances Jennings; Marie, Dorothy Gould; Colette, Louise McConnell; Pierre, Roland Jones; Dick, Mary Hill; Bob, Edna Mitchell. In March the meeting was in the hands of the club members, each one contributing a special part.

In April the club sponsored a moving picture, "Cyrano de Bergerac."

Spanish Club

President, PAUL ROSS
Vice-President, JANET TUTHILL

Secretary, ELEANOR RHODES
Treasurer, JOHN HENDRICK

THE Spanish Club of 1931-32 has spent a most enjoyable year under the direction of Mr. Argento. As all the meetings were conducted in Spanish, each member derived a better understanding of the language.

At the first meeting the following officers were elected: Paul Ross, president; Janet Tuthill, vice-president; Eleanor Rhodes, secretary; and John Hendrick, treasurer. Donald Irwin was elected chairman of the entertainment committee, and George Hall, chairman of the refreshment committee.

At the February meeting, the Spanish Club had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Francis Quinn, a former pupil of Mr. Argento's, who has been visiting in South America. His talk was on the conditions on that continent.

The various types of entertainment presented at the meetings, which included debates, plays, and jokes, afforded programs which contributed materially to the success of the year.

The Camera Club

President, ROGER ANDERSON

Vice-President, BARBARA JOHNSON

Secretary, CATHERINE SMITH

Treasurer, HELEN JOHNSON

THE year, the third in the history of the Camera Club, has been a most successful one under the guidance of Mr. Sterling Williams.

Since it is the club's purpose to benefit the students by increasing their knowledge and skill in photography, the year's program consisted mainly of interesting speakers who discussed topics relating to the technical side of photography. In November, Allen Worley explained the fine points of picture taking. At the February meeting, Mr. Peterson spoke on "Motion Pictures," demonstrating both the camera and projector to the members of the club. In April, the subject "Aerial Photography" was discussed by Mr. Hartwell.

The trip to the Bachrach finishing studio in March was one of the outstanding activities of the year. There, the entire process, from the development of the exposed film to the mounting of the finished portrait, was studied. The final meeting in May, which climaxed the year's activity was of a social nature.

The starting of an album, in which all the pictures taken during the year by members of the club were placed, proved a new feature in the club's work. The snap-shot contests received enthusiastic support throughout the year. The subject for November was "Vacation Scenes," won by Roger Anderson. The December contest, "Local Scenes," was won by Theodore Woolston, while in February Evangeline Buttaro exhibited an excellent picture which took first place in "News Photos." March and April were devoted to the taking of Newtonian pictures and the results proved conclusively that the year's work had been most beneficial.

The Debating Society

President, KENNETH JOHNSON
Vice-President, ROBERT HUNTER

Secretary, DAVID GUBERMAN
Treasurer, PHILIP MARGOLIN

IN mid-January the shot that was heard 'round Newton High School (especially in the ears of its feminine members) was fired by twenty boys, who, with much effort, had composed the constitution and received a charter for the "Newton High School Debating Society." An outstanding feature of the society is the total exclusion of girls.

Kenneth Johnson, one of the instigators of this organization, was elected president; Robert Hunter, vice-president; David Guberman, secretary; and Philip Margolin, treasurer.

Mr. Holmes, faculty adviser, in his inaugural address stated the purposes of this club clearly and brielly. The paramount aim is to foster debating interests in the Newton High School. Several debates were planned. The initial one was, "Resolved, That the Mexican War Was a Blot on the History of the United States." The affirmative side comprised of Robert Ashley, captain; Roger Maynard and Wilton Wiener defeated the negative side comprised of Stephen Holmes, captain; Albert Walker, and Chapin Harris. The judges were B. Floyd Rinker, chairman; Forrest E. Paige, and George I. Rolrbough.

No feminine club has yet been formed to accept the challenge of the boys' society.

Aviation Club

President, WILLIAM HODGES
Vice-President, EDWIN HALLIDAY

Secretary, ELIZABETH BARBER
Treasurer, RICHARD BRIGGS

THIS year, for the first time in its history, the Aviation Club allowed girls to become members of its exclusive circle. On October 22 the year's activities started with a bang. A Newton representative of the Goodyear Rubber Company gave a talk and showed a motion picture about the U. S. Akron.

At the second meeting the club officers were elected as follows: president, William Hodges; vice-president, Edwin Halliday; secretary, Elizabeth Barber; and treasurer, Richard Briggs. The members also cast ballots containing suggestions for the year's activities.

Many experts spoke to the club on different phases of aviation. Among the most interesting were: Mr. Hartwell of Newton High School, Mr. R. T. Hambolton of Curtis-Wright, and Mr. Bullard of Colonial.

Some of the club members had the opportunity of taking aeroplane flights, and others visited airports. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed the interesting club meetings throughout the year.

Varsity Glee Club

THIS year, the fifth season of the Varsity Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Charles B. Harrington, has been a very active and profitable one. The club has fifty-five members of whom thirty-seven are girls and eighteen are boys.

The Glee Club, like the Orchestra and Band, is a regular sixth-hour class which meets every Wednesday at 2.30 in room 2200. Credit of one-half point is given.

As usual, the Glee Club sang carols in the school corridors on the day preceding Christmas recess. It also provided a Wednesday morning program for all classes shortly before Christmas. The club again participated in the Outdoor Concert, offering two selections.

Although the opportunities for public performances have been few, the members have shown unusual interest, have done much serious work, and have been pleased and gratified with the fine progress which has been made.

Library Club

President, JULIA HARVEY

Vice-President, ELIZABETH CAMPBELL

Secretary, PHYLLIS BAKER

Treasurer, BARBARA DALES

THE Library Club opened its season early in the fall with the election of the following officers: president, Julia Harvey, '32; vice-president, Elizabeth Campbell, '33; secretary, Phyllis Baker, '32; treasurer, Barbara Dales, '32. Throughout the school year, the members gave their services freely in aid to the library and indirectly to the school. In the middle of the winter, they attended in a group, Katherine Cornell's production, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." The final meeting was held in the form of a party to initiate the new members for the coming year.

The Library Club, under the faculty leadership of Miss Gladys Bigelow, librarian, is devoted entirely to service to the library and the school. The membership is made up of fifteen senior and ten junior girls elected primarily from the Honor Roll by members of the club in the spring. This year, the members voted to buy and present to the school a set of pictures depicting scenes in the life of Washington.

Commercial Club

President, MARGARET ALLARDYCE

Treasurer, BETTY DOHERTY

Secretary, RUTH BERGEN

THIS is the Commercial Club's third consecutive season since its reorganization. Under its faculty adviser, Miss Gladys Cunningham, it has proved both interesting and worthwhile. The club officers chosen in the fall were: Margaret Allardyce, president; Ruth Bergen, secretary; and Betty Doherty, treasurer.

The club projects for this year were "Vocations" and "How to Apply for a Position." Reports, based on outside research work, were made by Dorothy Gallant on "Filing Clerks" and by Elizabeth Lawson on "Teaching Physical Education." At the November meeting Miss Jessie Stewart, a graduate of Newton High School and now a teacher at the Prince School in Boston, gave a very fascinating and instructive talk on "Fashion Advisers, Buyers, and Personnel Workers in Department Stores." At another meeting Mr. Raymond Greene spoke on Africa, and showed moving pictures.

At the April meeting and party, the play, "Diogenes Looks for a Secretary," was given.

The club presented the school library with six books as a nucleus for a Commercial Club book shelf. It is hoped that each succeeding club will contribute other volumes.

Home Economics Club

President, VIRGINIA EWART

Vice-President, MARY E. FOLEY

Secretary, GERTRUDE MEADE

Treasurer, CHARLOTTE HALL

THE Home Economics Club is open to any girl taking a Home Economic subject. The object of the club is to increase interest in any subject connected with home making and our meetings are planned so as to be both educational and social.

This year eight meetings have been held. At the first meeting the club was entertained by a speaker who told about life among the girls in the mountains of North Carolina. She exhibited some of their hand-work and sang folk songs.

At Christmas a party was held and plans were made to sponser a project of children's clothing to assist the Red Cross in the welfare work in the city of Newton. About sixty garments were made with the help of the clothing classes.

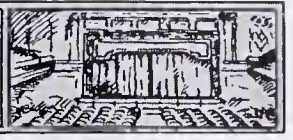

In February the club collected a large exhibit of beautiful hand-work from all nations. This was explained, and at the same meeting a speaker told us about her life as a girl in Switzerland.

At a large open meeting for all girls in the school and their mothers, a representative of the New England Dairy Council explained how to feed a family adequately on a very modest budget. She brought interesting films and foods with which to illustrate her talk.

Throughout the year a spirit of interest and co-operation has prevailed among all the members.

NEWTONIAN

Alpha Beta

President, PAUL FELT

Vice-President, JANE HAYDEN

Secretary, LLOYD BERGESON

Treasurer, JAMES NAYLOR

ALPHA BETA, the English club for freshmen and sophomores, held its first meeting, with fifty-six paid members, in October. At that time, the purpose and activities of the club were explained and officers were elected.

In November the guest speaker was Mr. Samuel Thurber, who spoke on the beauties of the English language. The December meeting was cancelled to give the members an opportunity to see the Drama Club's annual Christmas play.

On January twenty-seventh during assembly, the Freshman-Sophomore Prize-Speaking Contest was held. When the two winners were announced, club members were delighted to learn that both belonged to Alpha Beta.

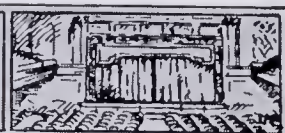

In February, in honor of Washington's birthday, six pupils presented a short play entitled, "A Stitch in Time." The March meeting was celebrated by a talk from Mr. Rinker. At this meeting prizes were given to Paul Felt and Louise Kerr, the winners of the Prize-Speaking Contest.

On the third Thursday of April, Alpha Beta, as guests of the Newtonite Staff, heard a most interesting talk from Mr. Edward Whiting.

Alpha Beta has contributed, not only intellectually (even though in but a small way) to the life of the school, but has also done its bit materially. It has given prizes to the winners of the Prize-Speaking Contest, has presented to the library a framed picture of George Washington, will furnish prizes for the Washington scrapbook winners, and expects to devote most of its balance at the end of the year to buying books for freshmen and sophomores.

NEWTONIAN

The Neophytes

President, JOSEPH CLEMENT
Vice-President, JAMES HUNTER

Secretary, HELEN O'CONNOR
Treasurer, LUCILLE HOLMES

THE Neophytes, the drama club composed of members of the freshman and sophomore classes, has been under the effective leadership of Miss Jessie Southard. The purpose of the club is to prepare its members for the Drama Club.

At the first meeting of the year, the following officers were elected: Joseph Clement, president; James Hunter, vice-president; Helen O'Connor, secretary; Lucille Holmes, treasurer.

At the November meeting the Neophytes were guests of the Drama Club. Mr. Green gave a very interesting talk on theatres abroad.

Two try-outs were held during the year, and at all times there was a full quota of forty members. In April the club purchased six pictures from the series, "The Progress of the Nation." These pictures are to be available in the Library in Building One for school use at any time.

During the year the club was entertained by several one-act plays, including: "The Man in the Bowler Hat," "The Figureheads," and "The Mother of Washington."

At the December meeting Mr. B. Floyd Rinker spoke on acting, amateur, professional and "movie." At the April meeting Miss Bigelow spoke on, "Plays in our Library." The Neophytes presented a Memorial Day play at a Freshman-Sophomore Assembly.

Stage Committee

THE stage has been in constant use during the school year for plays, rehearsals, assemblies, and motion picture programs. For each of these affairs the scenery must be set up, changed, and removed, and lights and curtains must be handled during the performance. This is the duty of the stage committee, whose members this year were: Austin Berkeley, Raymond Case, Thomas Frary, and Bolton Wilder. They worked under the direction of Mr. Raymond A. Green and Mr. Charles W. Peterson at a task that calls for a maximum of time and muscle, quick thinking, and concentrated action. Those on the Stage Committee gain a great deal of valuable information on what goes on backstage and learn to do it well.

ATHLETICS

Football

Captain, WILLIAM DUANE

Manager, JOHN BERGESON

Couch, RALPH SANBORN

THE 1931 varsity football team enjoyed a successful season, winning six of the nine games played, being defeated twice, and having one scoreless tie. The team scored 140 points to its opponents 27. A large number of boys participated in the games, as many as forty-four entering one contest. Thirty-one varsity letters were awarded at the close of the season.

The season opened with a visit to Arlington where the Newton boys helped dedicate a new field with a loss for the home team, the Orange and Black bringing back a well-earned 27-0 victory. Cambridge High was the visitor for the first home game and was defeated 28-0. Then came the Everett game with the visitors snatching a victory by the score of 7-6, after being hopelessly out of the running most of the game. Against Quincy the veterans of the Newton team seemed to be in a slump, but the large number of reserves played exceedingly well and won by a 20-7 score. The game at Somerville showed Newton somewhat below its best form, Somerville earning the 7-0 victory. Woburn, a newcomer to the Newton field, visited us next, and the home team ran rough-shod to a 34-0 victory. The Rindge game at Cambridge proved to be a rugged contest, although Newton won 6-0. The big home game of the season with Waltham was a real school-boy contest, with Newton opening the game by scoring, and winning 19-6. The Thanksgiving Day game at Brookline was a contest replete with scoring opportunities for Newton. Although the game ended in a scoreless tie, the Newton boys certainly outplayed the Brookline team and deserved much credit.

Baseball

Captain, THOMAS RHODES

Coach, LUCIUS JONES

Manager, JOHN ENEGESS

THE record of the Newton Varsity baseball team at this time is four games won and two lost. English and Dorchester were the successful teams against Newton by scores of 8-0 and 12-3 respectively, while our school has been victorious over Quincy, Braintree, Somerville, and Rindge (the latter two being Suburban League opponents) by the scores of 10-1, 9-3, 9-5, and 10-9.

Although more than 150 boys have reported for baseball, Coach Jones is having no easy task in his first year as leader of the Orange and Black baseball forces, for the only veterans around whom he has to build the team are Huston, shortstop; Mullen, center-field; Giles and Captain Rhodes, pitchers.

If the interest shown in baseball by both players and students this year is at all significant, the successful future of Newton High School baseball teams seems to be assured.

Besides the Varsity team, there are also the Intermediate Varsity, Junior Varsity A, and Junior Varsity B squads under the direction of Coaches Sanborn, Swan, and Willard.

Ice Hockey

Manager, ELIOT ROBINSON

Coach, OSCAR MARTIN

THE 1932 ice hockey team had a very successful season, losing only one game and tying one. This aggregation will go down in Newton sport history as a team of high calibre. Due to adverse weather conditions resulting in lack of ice, several scheduled outdoor games were cancelled, practically all of the games being played on the indoor surface of the Boston Garden.

Newton fared unusually well in League competition, sailing through its schedule with a series of wins. After a terrific tussle with Medford, a new member and the dark horse of the League, the game finally ended in a 3-3 tie. Newton continued its winning streak until the final tilt with Melrose, the defending League champions, for the title. Newton was overpowered by the strong Melrose sextet and was easily defeated. The League ended in a tie between Melrose and Medford, with Newton in third place.

Jackson Skillings, the Newton goalie, and Charlie Houghton and Sostilio, the Newton defense, were picked on several All-Suburban teams.

Newton's chances in 1933 are very good. Houghton, Sostilio, Waters, Kevorkian, Manning, Hennessy, and Young are returning next year.

The letter winners were: Andres, Buell, Carvelli, Champagne, DeGeorge, Duane, Houghton, Kelley, A. Robinson, Skillings, Sostilio, and Eliot Robinson, manager.

Indoor Track

Captain, JAMES CAHILL

Coach, DONALD ENOCH

Manager, STEARNS SMALLEY

THIS year's indoor track team opened the season with a strongly contested victory over Medford. The final score was 39-38. The team then met Watertown with renewed confidence, and ran up a score of 52-24.

Brookline gave the usual stiff opposition, but was outplayed by the splendid work of Captain Jimmy Cahill, Stan Johnson, Doug Sloan, Francis Tuscher, and Bill Cusumano. The final score was 40-37. At the next meeting, Brookline came back with a bang, and got its revenge to the score of 40½-36½.

Newton met Country Day in a fighting mood which resulted in a walkover. Although there was some opposition in the relay and hurdles, the final score was Newton 48, Country Day 24.

Letter men were Cahill, Johnson, Sloan, Molloy, Fitzgerald, Maynard, Tuscher, Cusumano, Bradley, and Stearns Smalley, manager.

Newton placed high in every meet, and won the relays at the Northeastern meet where she beat Everett, the relay over Brookline at Andover, and the relay at the B. A. A. meet.

Basketball

Captain, GEORGE GULIAN

Manager, WILLIAM BAILEY

Coach, FRANK M. SIMMONS

THE basketball season this year opened up for all candidates not out for football two weeks previous to Thanksgiving recess. This gave Coach Simmons a chance to size up the new material coming in from the Junior High Schools throughout the city. Immediately following this recess a call was given for all candidates trying for the varsity team. An immediate cut of the squad was soon made and material retained was divided into three squads under the leadership of Coaches Simmons, Rohrbough, Taylor. These squads worked in concentrated effort until Christmas vacation.

This year's team set up a new record for the school with seven wins and eight losses. The team showed steady improvement throughout the season and a good nucleus is left for next year's team to build upon.

Among the high-lights of the season was the defeat of Somerville and Rindge, the League leaders, by the Newton team, something that has never been accomplished by a Newton basketball team. The success attained by the team was due to the splendid co-operation of the entire squad with the coaches working toward the point of better basketball for Newton High School.

Those receiving letters are: Captain, Gulian; Manager, Bailey; Patterson, Huston, Jones, Poinier, Taylor, Winslow, Flagg, Vassalotti, Gorgone, Leone, Quinlan, Roy, W. Tilley, A. Tilley, Springer, and Wood.

Cross Country

Coach, DONALD ENOCH

AT the close of its third successful year, the Newton cross country team has risen to the front ranks in spite of strong competition. Although still in its infancy, the team has in its first three years produced some fine runners. The stars of the team have been Fitzgerald and Connelly, while Ridgeway and Amesbury are good material for next year's team.

The harriers repeated last year's victory over Stoneham, and the Concord team also bent to Newton. However, the average was lowered when the Quincy team scored a victory the following week.

The Arlington meet was the most bitterly contested. In spite of the fight put up by Newton, the result was a victory for Arlington.

In the state meet Newton upset the odds by finishing second, although she had been predicted to take sixth place in the finish.

The letter men were Fitzgerald, Connelly, Maynard, Amesbury, James, Ridgeway, and Sproat.

Outdoor Track

Captain, STANLEY JOHNSON

Manager, ROBERT JOHNSON

Coach, DONALD ENOCH

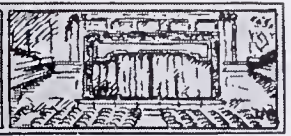

AS we go to press, the outdoor track team has participated in one meet only, the Worcester Interscholastic Track Meet. This first event of the outdoor season resulted in a tie between Lawrence and Everett while Newton, the defending champion, placed third.

Newton appears to be as strong, if not stronger, on the cinders as it was on the indoor boards. This is undoubtedly due to the excellent new track which has attracted newcomers in unprecedented numbers. This fine track surrounding the grid-iron lends the finishing touch to Newton's excellent athletic plant.

Although last year's championship aggregation was badly riddled by graduation, Coach Enoch has discovered new talent which, with a little experience, should give Newton the impetus to elevate itself once more to titular ranks. Coach Enoch is depending on Stanley Johnson, a senior, to give many points to Newton this season.

Those most likely to receive letters are: Johnson, captain; J. Blume, R. Francis, R. Quigley, F. Tuscher, W. Cusumano, T. Fitzgerald, W. Mullen, P. Andress, D. Sloane, J. Cahill, T. Molloy, M. Gulian, P. York, E. Bradley.

Golf

Captain and Manager, HUGH COSGROVE

Coach, FREDERICK HUSSEY

COACH HUSSEY this year was placed in the position of having no veterans left upon which to build his team. This apparently did not affect the usual high standard for the golf team, however, as a wealth of new material responded to his call for try-outs.

Thus far the record of the team has been highly successful, starting off with a win from Watertown. Weymouth fell under the niblick next, being overwhelmed by an 11-4 defeat. The next two battles of the flying divots resulted in victory for none of the contesting teams, the points being split evenly with both Arlington and Weymouth (return match). Thayer will be next to feel the explosion of Newton's trap shots.

Hugh Cosgrove, the new captain, is the most consistent low scorer, while Nelson Manning provides the long drives and necessity for occasional brilliant recoveries. The remainder of the team, consisting of Richard McEldowney, Charles Quinn, Patrick Hagerty, Robert Gwillim, and Emmet Murphy, is not far behind on the scoring proposition. With one exception they are all juniors, so the prospect of a powerful team next year is very good.

Tennis

Captain, HORACE WOOD

Coach, WALTER M. TAYLOR

Manager, THURMAN PHILOON

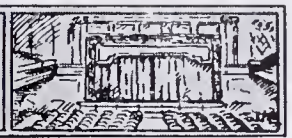

ALTHOUGH there was but little veteran material from last year, the team, headed by Captain Wood, has been on the whole very successful.

The first match, which was very bitterly contested, was lost to a superior Milton Academy team, as the 5-4 score indicated. After settling into their paces, the Orange and Black trounced Country Day by a decisive 5-0 victory. Those who won their matches were Dunnell, Cobb, and Ashley in singles, while Brennon and Ridgeway, McKissock, and Guberman teamed up in the doubles to score a point each.

Malden also fell victim to the Newton outfit in its first League match scoring 4-2, with the whole team turning in a creditable performance.

There were nine other matches played, three of which were League games. The boys on the first squad in the order of their positions are: Dunnell, Cobb, Bancroft, Houghton, Ashley, Ridgeway, McKissock, Wood.

Girls' Field Hockey

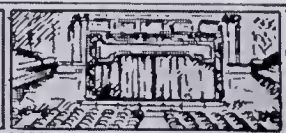

FROM the one hundred and twenty girls who came out for the first hockey practice, thirty were chosen for the first and second teams. There were as usual the interclass competitions which were won by the senior team, captained by Lomira Mason.

The first game of the girls' field hockey season was with Needham, which resulted in a 1-1 tie for both the first and second teams. However, the next game was a complete triumph for both the Newton varsities, the first team winning 3-0, and the seconds 4-0 over Waltham. The Watertown game was a scoreless tie for both teams, partly due to the slippery field. The teams then journey to Brookline, our greatest rivals who had not been scored upon up to this contest. The "Wealthy Towners" were completely overwhelmed when Newton scored first. However, they retaliated and the whistle blew at the half with the score 1-1. The second half was a keen duel with Brookline winning the game by the score 3-2. The seconds also lost 1-3. The annual clash with the Alumnae was a complete victory for the varsity, ending their season with the high score of 5-1.

As usual, the All-Boston Field Hockey Association held the annual tryouts for the selection of the honorary public and private junior school teams in Newton. Our representatives in these tryouts were Gertrude Welch, Adelaide Fogg, and Margaret Fletcher. Although Margaret Fletcher, who captured the center position, was the only one from Newton to gain the distinction of making the team, our other two contestants were not eliminated until the final cuts.

In the all-girls' assembly, the following received varsity awards: Captain Gertrude Welch, Elizabeth Quirk, Margaret Fletcher, Etta Wittens, Mary Ham, Julia McKenna, Catherine Maloney, Barbara Cram, Angie King, Marguerite Brandt, Adelaide Fogg, Ruth Leonard, and Marguerite Creamer.

Girls' Basketball

Captain, RUTH SAMPSON

Manager, GERTRUDE WELCH

Coach, ELNA PETERSON

GIRLS reporting for basketball this fall were placed on teams which formed a league, the winning team receiving numerals. Jean Harvey, Katherine Offutt, and Margaret Fletcher were chosen captains of their class varsities.

In the opening game with Cambridge Latin, the sophomores and juniors won by the scores of 22-21 and 22-20, while the seniors met defeat by two points. In the game with Needham, the juniors were the only victors. The seniors redeemed themselves by defeating Waltham 51-10, and the juniors were again successful, but the sophomores bowed to Waltham's stronger team.

The last game of the season was a bitterly contested one with our most skilled opponents, Watertown. The seniors, for the first time in four years, defeated them, 35-16, while the sophomores lost; the juniors, however, ended their undefeated season with a tie score.

After the class competitions had been won by the seniors, the honorary varsity was chosen. This team played the Alumnae and the Faculty, overwhelming the former by a score of 65-0 and the latter 40-31.

At the Girls' Gym Meet, the following were awarded varsity letters: Ruth Sampson, captain; Gertrude Welch, Patty Niles, Margaret Fletcher, Mary Ham, Julia Harvey, Lomira Mason, Margaret Mackin, Julia McKenna, Elizabeth McCready, Katherine Offutt, and Jane Forté.

Girls' Tennis

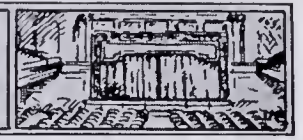

TENNIS, one of the most popular sports for girls, had a most successful year. Early in the fall the tournament was opened with many tennis enthusiasts entering. In the finals of this contest, Eleanor Stearns won a hard-fought battle from "Kay" Offutt with the score 6-2, 6-4. The girls who reached the semi-finals in the fall tournament are automatically members of the tennis squad. From this the coach, Miss Maida Flanders, selects the tennis team. The following girls are members of the squad: Kay Offutt, Barbara Foote, Betty McCready, Janet Tuthill, Carolyn Whitaker, Virginia Eliot and Minnie Spiers; and members of last year's undefeated team, which was composed of: Helen Chase, Julia Harvey, Eleanor Stearns, Margaret Fletcher, and Constance Ober.

A spring tournament was also held, and the usual fine matches resulted. Contests with Arlington, Winchester, Watertown, and Brookline were played.

Definitions Concerning Seniors

A SENIOR — is an individual designed to keep teachers in a constant state of worry because he has not been sufficiently polished off for College Boards. He is in most cases a college aspirant who does the maximum amount of home preparation in the minimum amount of time.

SENIORITY — is a search for something exclusive and different by belated under-classmen who hope to reach the acme of sophistication and knowledge of the world. It is a most convincing demonstration of world-wiseness and affluence.

MAY AND JUNE — are the months when the best of them strut around as though they owned the premises, trying to outdo one another in fashionable splendor as they tarry in all conspicuous doorways.

A TEACHER — is one of the group of four to six people who care for Seniors' wants. Since the folks back home can't manage the senior, they wish him on to the miserable pedagogues.

MANNERS — are social usages generally required to be known. Seniors should refrain from pouring salt in their neighbor's ice cream, bending his straws, or hiding his candy bar; they should sample soup silently as well as set an example to under-classmen by not chewing gum or passing "slam books."

PHOTOGRAPHS — are the pictorial records of a Senior's physiognomy which appear in the year book as well as on his girl friend's bureau. Made during ten minutes of exquisite torture, they have the faculty of making one blonde, brunette or gray-haired, as the customer desires.

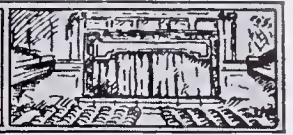

SENIOR PROM — is the affair in May for which the Seniors bedeck themselves with meticulous care, obtain the family chariot, and proceed, programs in hand, to the Gym with all due reverence.

GRADUATION — is the happy moment in June when they march like sheep in a fold to the stadium, sit under a blistering sun, get beamed on by loving parents, and listen to a lengthy dissertation by a didactic speaker.

A DIPLOMA — is documentary evidence of high ideals, sharpened intellect, and porridge masses of information gleaned from the high school course.

The Class Prophecy

THE class of 1932 celebrated its Silver Anniversary last night at an elaborate banquet. Rear Admiral Robert Buell was guest of the evening. Following the tasty delicacies (served by Campbell, the eater) of beans, sardines, yeast cakes, stomach-ache and pepsin, Robert Hunter, famous ping-pong artist, introduced the first speaker, Miss Etta Wittens, who is now corresponding columnist of the Benis Herald on "What the Best Dressed Men Wear." She said that the class should install as a gift to Newton High a television set. Charles Doherty, the song and dance man of the Shubert, approved this idea. "Yes," said "Cackey" McKey, noted cooking expert and wife of Joe Roach, "that would be of value to the headmaster."

"Certainly," interrupted Phil Layton, Esq., "All that he would have to do would be to press a button and observe what was going on in a classroom."

Brad Dyer (who married "Posey" Greene, an old classmate of his) said that the Principal could find out what the teachers were doing besides drawing their monthly salary. But "Chet" Foley, the prosperous fruit man, criticized the fact that all teachers would then eavesdrop on each other's classes.

"Well," replied Jean Williams, the maid that lacked technicalities to grab a partner in life, "that's impossible, for how could a Latin teacher understand a French teacher, or a math teacher a sewing class?"

General approval tittered across the hall as the modish Miss took her seat. Shattering the illusions of the gathering, truck farmer Jerry Leone said that it was a crazy idea, and that a garden on the school lawn would be more profitable.

Stuart DeBard arose and with a political air that cast a spell over his audience, thundered, "The pupils in a study period would peek into their next class and get the test questions that the teacher is going to give that class!" The rich and extravagant banker winked at his pretty wife, Anne Patrick, and sat down. Silence fell on the class of '32.

Not being patient enough to bear the silence, Dr. Warren Sutherland of Thomsonville exclaimed that he had a new idea. But before he could expound it, Frank Fox, the romantic lover of the screen, majestically arose and with his usual coarse voice yelled, "What this school needs is a statue of Elmer Davis, the honor man of our class. He would ever be an inspiration to the students as they gazed upon his handsome and noble features." "Tut! Tut!" whimpered Monsieur William Perry, "Allow me to paint instead a portrait of Thurman Philoon. His features are more distinctive and benevolent." "Fellow classmates," interrupted Wilbur Russell, celebrated stylist, "Do you realize what an expense this gift would be? A statue or an oil painting would cost thousands of dollars."

Meanwhile Ann Cummings, a pretty little maid, sat in the corner, and as she hummed, "If I Had a Man Like You!" gazed fondly at Paul Ross, the fussy, still a bachelor.

Barbara Lord abruptly arose after a lull in the debate and said in her southern drawl, "I really believe it is a good idea to install television. Make it a private line so that only the person in the principal's office can see what is going on in the classrooms." Tom Molloy nodded his head in approval, as did Mr. and Mrs. Clukas (Marion Hillman). At that time Arthur Tilley, whom we often see in collar ads, made it a motion, and the revolutionizing innovation was unanimously passed.

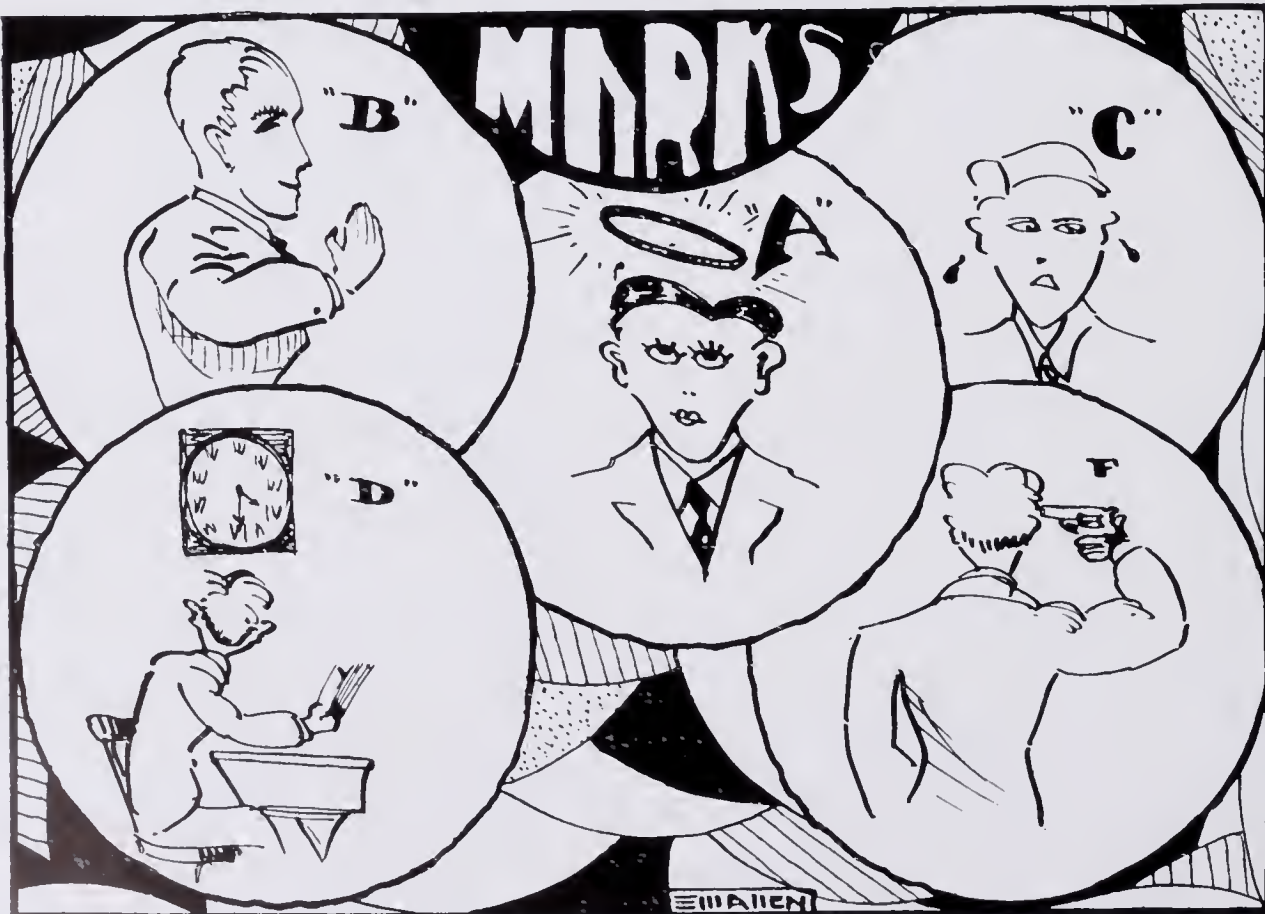

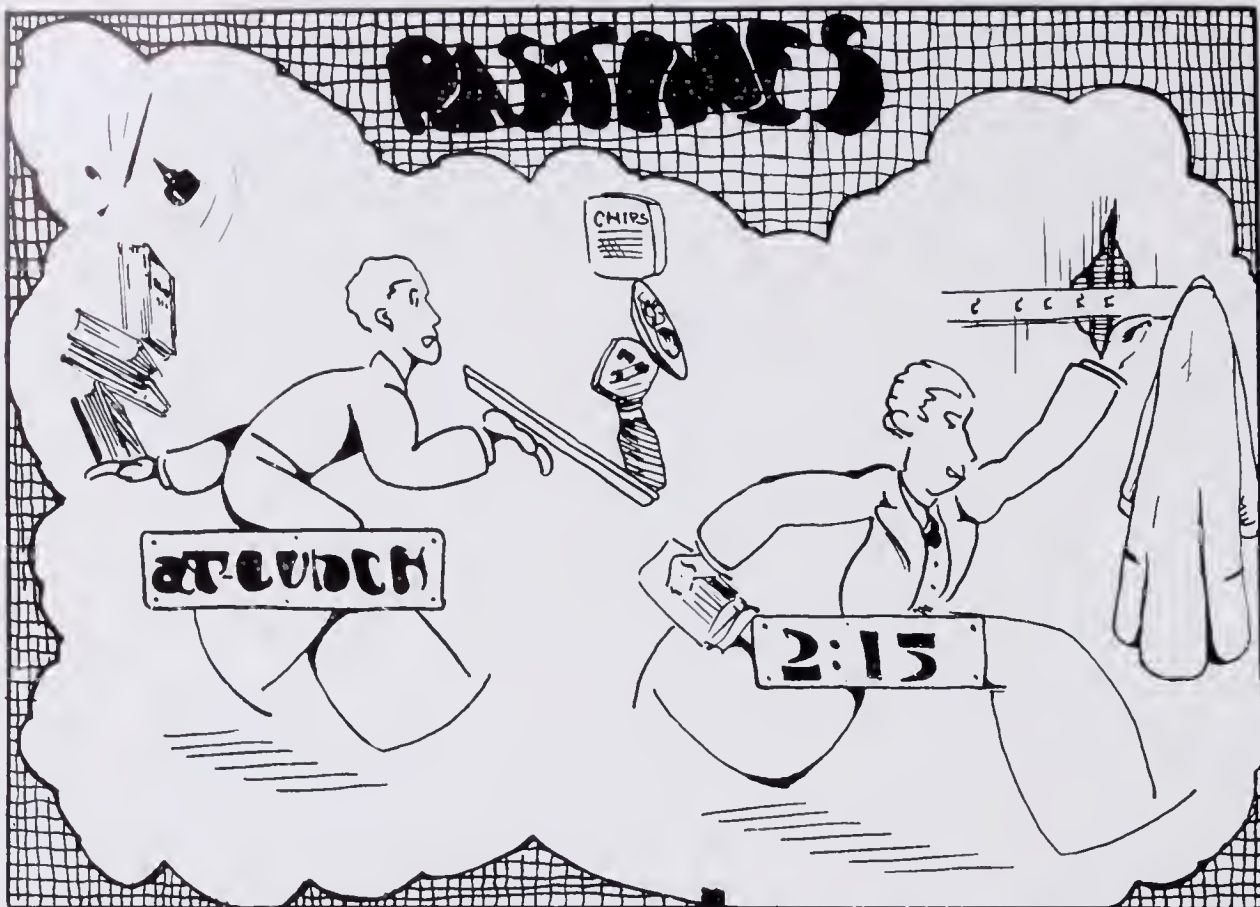

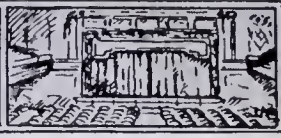

Richie (Smoothy) Bancroft: "Seen any change since you got back from vacation?"
Eddy (Sheiky) Campbell: "Not a doggoned nickel."

John Giles: "I wonder how Latin-America got its name?"
Bill Dillo: "Because no one knows anything about it, sap!"

Professor Gulian: "Explain a vacuum."
Scholar Vassalotti: "I have it in my head, but I can't express it."

Pat's Adventure

GALLANT Bob Patterson was BENT, one KNIGHT, on taking Midge Jones to a dance. He drove up in his GRAY GREEN FORD. "I'll WARNER no PARKIN," he mused as he waited in her HALL. "I SAWYER coming," said she. Do you KERR for my new WHITE dress?"

"Aw, SHAW, it looks like COTTON," he said taetlessly.

She SEATES herself in the FORD and they drive merrily over Newton CENTER RHODES to the dance. But a STERN, STOUT BUTLER-DEBARD them from the door. "We WOOD like to come in!" begged Pat.

The BUTLER said in a LOUD voice, "Don't KIDGER self, sCRAM!"

So they HADD to TURNER round and go home. Midge said on the SPUR of the moment, "Come to DINNER and I'll FRIER piece of HAM and BAKER WING of a YOUNG BOYD that's in the ice ehest. If you want some MOORE, there is a BLACK BERRY pie with BROWN crust to DECKERate the DINNER."

When he finished this, he uttered a MOANE and on the MORROW when the ROBBINS began to CARROLL, he was FULLER reMORSE. He thought, "This is the FINNish of Patterson." But he did not go to STONE cold TOOMBS; finally he came out of the FOGG.

"I've DUNNE with you!" he later cried to Midge, in a TOWERing rage. "I'll HUNTER n'other girl. I know a lot I could LAND!"

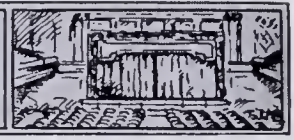

"Don't be BARBERous," she begged, "I'll be GOODNOW."

"All right, and I won't be a BLUMEing dumbBELL, next time," agreed Pat EARNESTly.

The Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1932

WE, the class of 1932, on this the first day of April, being of sound mind and abiding memory, and the most richly endowed class mentally as well as physically ever to be graduated from the Newton High School, do hereby publish and declare this to be our last will and testament. By this instrument we do hereby give, devise, and bequeath to the Newton High School, the class of 1933, and other individuals as here and after specifically set forth, to have and to hold, to them and their heirs and successors for their use and forever, i.e., to wit, viz.:

The buildings of Newton High School to the Faculty and the moths.

The playground, the recreation facilities, and the lunchroom to the pupils.

All the P. G.'s to Mr. Jones to impress for the Lunchroom Squad.

To the class of 1933:

Julia Harvey's efficiency

Charlie Butler's original Latin translations

Bob Ashley's four A's to all who may find need of them

To the Newtonite:

Charles Doherty's iron will

Anne Kendall's writing powers

Dotty Carroll's "bug" for work

Bob Patterson's stalwart physique to "Doc" Martin.

Bob Hunter's golf to Mr. Hussey.

El Stearns's "cannon-ball" serve to Miss Flanders.

Marion Willard's acting to the Drama Club of 1933.

Peg Fletcher's hockey to the All-Suburban Team.

Kenneth Johnson's mastery of the English language to the Debating Society.

Phil Layton's "pale dazzling limped eyes" to Miss Richardson.

Willie Russell's deep baritone voice to our public speaking teacher, Miss Lee.

Phil Margolin's harmonica to Mr. Spaulding.

Barbie Burr's initials to Mr. B. Floyd Rinker.

Rosie Littlefield's dancing feet to Miss Burnham.

Stuart DeBard's eyebrows to the bust of Chaucer in the library.

Flo Guild's nice disposition to a number of people who need it.

Edna Gryzmish's gum to Mr. Kidger's waste basket.

To those who will accept them:

Phyllis Baker's personality

Silas Phillip's bashfulness

Anne Patrick's "What say?"

Lillian Taylor's eyes

Alma Warner's new Ford

Eddie Campbell's pockets

Doris Linscott's "petiteness"

Jack Malley's keen wit

Helen Ellis's smile

Lois Hall's dignity

Bill Perry's cartoons

Harry Sheehan's love for the briny deep

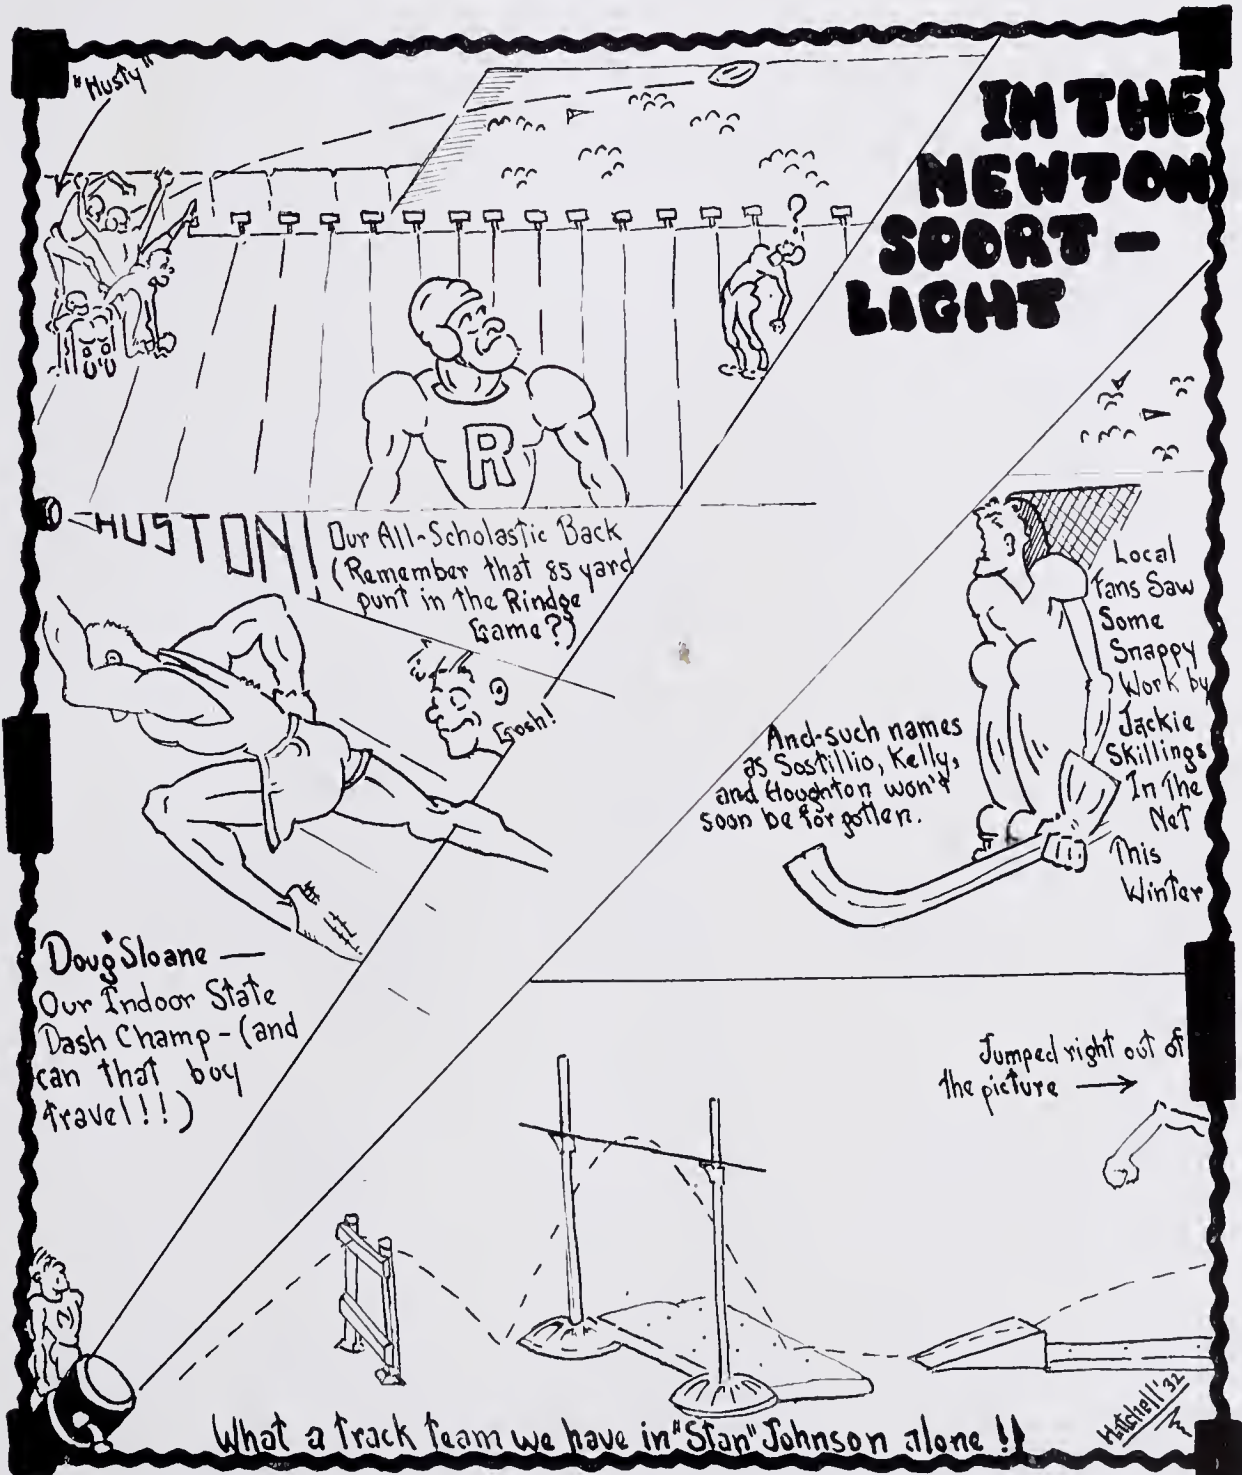

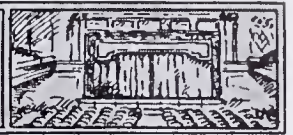

Ginney Josselyn's good-naturedness

Midge Cady's spelling

Jackie Hendrick's jokes

Richie Bancroft's winning ways

Having confidence in the judgment of our Paul E. Elicker, our new principal, we do hereby constitute and appoint him to be our sole executor of this our last will and testament.

Once upon a time Roy Benoit wanted a mustache. Before retiring, he rubbed his upper lip with salt. He placed a glass of water on the floor and fell asleep facing it. In the dead of night he felt a stir. Like a flash he awoke, and seizing each thirsty hair that had come out for a drink, tied a knot in it. And he lived happily ever after with his line mustache.

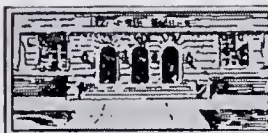

Philip (Aeneas) McMorrow: "What do the Sing-Sing convicts read?"

Francis (Virgil) Mahoney: "I'll be durned if I know."

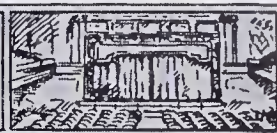

Philip (Aeneas) McMorrow: "They read their 'noose' paper of course."
